

Anthony Blackman (June 14th, 1975- ), is an African American activist and entrepreneur, executive member of the Circle of Brotherhood, Inc., Chairman of the Circle of Brotherhood entertainment committee. In May of 2001 Anthony released his debut album The New Era with the help of longtime friend Byron Williams CEO of N.F.C Productions in Miami, Fl. This album features 11year old Jason Derulo, who is now an International Pop Superstar.

Born to Walter & Vivian Blackman in New York, New York City. Anthony Blackman, grew up in Mobile, Alabama, where he is known by his stage name Toc the Thug Scholar. At the age of 12 Anthony dropped out of school in the 7th grade and spent most of his childhood incarcerated. In 2004, Anthony received his GED at Lindsey Hopkins Technical College in Miami, FL. In 2011, he completed his entrepreneur certification at Miami Dade Community college. Years after graduation, Anthony is currently enrolled at SAC Institute Miami for audio engineering.

Anthony substantial music gift, faith and personal charisma allowed him to rise quickly in the Circle of Brotherhood where he now known as King Blackman. Owner of Blackman Music Group, Inc an organization decide to educating, inspiring, and entertaining the youth. Anthony says positive Hip-Hop is going to make the change we want in our communities. Anthony Blackman is helping to revamp and reshape the entire trajectory of hip-hop culture as it pertains to the music industry.

His first single Peacemakers will be released 03/09/19 which features C.O.B lead organizer Leroy Jones, executive member Terry Jones Jr, and at large member Lamont Nanton. This single is part of our mission to reach our people as peacemakers. Heralded as a lyrical architect, Anthony Blackman is helping to revamp and reshape the entire trajectory of hip-hop culture as it pertains to the music industry.