

Albert Campbell was born in Miami Florida in 1964 to parents Albert & Queen Campbell. My parents separated when I was too young to remember. I was raised in Liberty City which is metaphorically likened to a mother, who lovingly breast feeds her unruly children on selling drugs, drug abuse, murder, robberies, kidnappings, and a plethora of premeditated heinous crimes; all while living in an “Arrested Development”. Being reared by a family some of which was affiliated with drugs in so many ways lead my family and I to be homeless. It was that dreadful time in my life that broke my spirit and lead me to be a product of my environment which ultimately landed me in federal prison with a 35-year sentence of which I served 22.3 years. In the course of those 22 plus years I had a visitation from God, which healed my broken spirit and caused me to yearn for forgiveness and redemption, that lead me to publishing two books, The Raising of A Son By Miami & Desperations to Revelation: It just God Real, as a testimony that something good can come out of the Ghetto. It’s was that burning desire, longsuffering, and impeccable conduct that in 2016 I was blessed to receive clemency from President Barack Obama, that reduced my prison sentence nearly 10 years. I’m happily married to Corenthia E. Willis-Campbell and currently employed with Overnight Success.

Shortly after being released from the Halfway House my cousin Anthony Durden introduced me to the organization called The Circle of Brotherhood, that was/is the vehicle to a prayer that I pray to God for over two decades while I was in the prison house, I asked God that if He would give me another chance to be a free man, that I would go back into the community that help to build up what I destroyed and The Circle of Brotherhood present me with that platform. During my Community Activism I’ve spoken to over 300 children encouraging them not to go down that dark past as I did. I’ve been assigned to secure elected officials, I help feed the homeless, I was also assigned to assist in train the City of Miami Police cadets. I’m so thankful that God is using me for a purpose bigger than myself.
